

Dr. Joe Baker - York University

Dr. Joe Baker is Professor and head of the Lifespan Performance Laboratory in the School of Kinesiology and Health Science, at York University. His research focuses on talent identification, skill acquisition, and athlete development. He also works with elite teams and organizations around the world to optimize athlete performance and development. In his talk "The T Word", Dr. Baker will discuss the problems with how 'talent' has been considered by researchers, coaches and athletes, and how we integrate this concept into a 21st century framework for athlete development.